The Empire State Series: A Week in New York, Autumn in London, New Year in Manhattan Louise Bay Anna Kirby is sick of dating. She's tired of heartbreak. Despite being smart, sexy, and funny, she's a magnet for men who don't deserve her. A week's vacation in New York is the ultimate distraction from her most recent break-up, as well as a great place to meet a stranger and have some summer fun. But to protect her still-bruised heart, fun comes with rules. There will be no sharing stories, no swapping numbers, and no real names. Just one night of uncomplicated fun. Super-successful serial seducer Ethan Scott has some rules of his own. He doesn't date, he doesn't stay the night, and he doesn't make any promises. It should be a match made in heaven. But rules are made to be broken. The Empire State Series comprises the novellas A Week in New York, Autumn in London and New Year in Manhattan. That Autumn in Old London Town Last Day of Autumn Transnational Press London "I was somewhat familiar with the works of Sophie before reading this collection of short stories; however, these uniquely crafted literary pieces opened for me a new window into the mind of an author who has the capacity to demonstrate so many different aspects of female psyche. It often feels that the author has drawn from personal experiences; yet every character is unique and every protagonist battles in a completely different sphere! The characters are complex in the extreme, yet there is a familiarity in every one of them that makes them easily recognizable to the reader. This, of course, can only be explained by the prowess the author has in depicting women with all of their fragilities, strengths, struggles, heartaches, victories, failures and everything else that encompasses a woman's life in a patriarchal world. Sophie succeeds with every beautifully plotted story to demonstrate the ultimate female struggle for finding freedom and equality! What is more is that she does so with a fresh, novel style, rarely ever seen in other Kurdish or Persian female novelists." - Gloria Yazdani, Writer/Director, Canada Short stories: The Queen of Niflheim Identifying the Main Codes One-Legged Angel Setar on the Mud Wall Naked Windows of Alley 717 The Before Death Dread Ms. Susan Autumn: Terror in the London Underground #1 Caliber Comics Autumn: Terror in the London Underground #2 Caliber Comics Autumn Alley Enter a world of gas lights and horse-drawn buses, gin-soaked night clubs and fluttering lace curtains... Unfortunately, no man is strong enough to tame the stubborn beauty's fierce will. Except, perhaps, the powerful and arrogant Earl of Westcliff—a man Lillian despises more than anyone she's ever met. Marcus, Lord Westcliff, is famous for his icy English reserve and his supreme self-control. But something about the audacious Lillian drives him mad. Whenever they're in the same room, they can't stop themselves from battling furiously to gain the upper hand. Then one afternoon, a stunningly sensuous encounter changes everything . . . and Lillian discovers that beneath the earl's reserved façade, he is the passionate and tender lover of her dreams. What neither Westcliff nor Lillian suspect, however, is that a sinister conspiracy threatens to destroy any chance of happiness. After a shocking betrayal endangers Lillian's safety—and possibly her life—will Marcus be able to save her before it's too late? After 99% of the population of the planet is killed in less than 24 hours, for the very few who have managed to stay alive, things are about to get much worse. Animated by "phase two" of some unknown contagion, the dead begin to rise. At first slow, blind, dumb and lumbering, quickly the bodies regain their most basic senses and abilities... sight, hearing, locomotion... As well as the instinct toward aggression and violence. Held back only by the restraints of their rapidly decomposing flesh, the dead seem to have only one single goal - to lumber forth and destroy the sole remaining attraction in the silent, lifeless world: those who have survived the plague, who now find themselves outnumbered 1,000,000 to 1... Without ever using the 'Z' word, Autumn offers a new perspective on the traditional zombie story. There's no flesh eating, no fast-moving corpses, no gore for gore's sake. Combining the atmosphere and tone of George Romero's classic living dead films with the attitude and awareness of 28 Days (and Weeks) later, this horrifying and suspenseful novel is filled with relentless cold, dark fear. Autumn: Dawn Autumn: The London Trilogy WELCOME TO LONDON Population seven million 99.9% of them dead The survival of the rest balanced on a knife-edge THE WORLD IS DEAD Two months ago, billions of people were killed by a deadly germ. Days later, they rose up again in massive numbers. Since then, cities worldwide have become corpse-filled, rat-infested, germ-choked hellholes. A group of people are trapped in central London, hopelessly outnumbered by the dead. They hear rumours of a safe haven in the north - a self-sufficient community where people from across the country have gathered to try and rebuild their lives. But the decaying ruins of the capital are vast and sprawling, and they're going to need an army to get away from this place. There are other people here, waiting in the shadows to be found. Can enough of them band together to make a difference, or has the country - maybe even the entire world - already been lost to the dead? The first book a new trilogy of novels set in the dystopian world of David Moody's best-selling AUTUMN survival horror series. The Incredible City London from the Autumn of 1942 to New Year's Day 1944, Autumn A Novel Anchor MAN BOOKER PRIZE FINALIST • The first novel in Ali Smith's Seasonal Quartet is an unforgettable story about aging and time and love—and stories themselves. Autumn. Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness. Two old friends—Daniel, a centenarian, and Elisabeth, born in 1984—look to both the future and the past as the United Kingdom stands divided by a historic, once-in-a-generation summer. Love is won, love is lost. Hope is hand-in-hand with hopelessness. The seasons roll round, as ever. A luminous meditation on the meaning of richness and harvest and worth, Autumn is the first installment of Ali Smith's Seasonal Quartet, and it casts an eye over our own time: Who are we? What are we made of? Shakespearean jeu d'esprit, Keatsian melancholy, the sheer bright energy of 1960s pop art. Autumn is wide-ranging in time-scale and light-footed through histories. MOCA LONDON PERFORMANCE Autumn: Inferno Book two of the London trilogy Infected Books There are now more than three hundred people grouped together on the banks of the Thames in the shadows of the Tower of London. On one side, the river. In all other directions, nothing but the dead. If they can make it through winter, they'll have a shot at long-term survival, but with so many mouths to feed, food is at a premium. They have no choice but to scavenge through the ruins of London to survive, but with every street they clear, every building they strip, they risk enraging the vast hordes of the undead that have them surrounded. It's a delicate balancing act: stave off starvation while doing everything possible to avoid all out war. But there may be another option... AUTUMN: INFERNO is the second book in the new trilogy set in the nightmare world of David Moody's international best-selling series. For more information about AUTUMN visit www.lastoftheliving.net. Praise for the LONDON TRILOGY: "Autumn: Dawn is an unabated, unforgiving onslaught of intensity that takes aim at both the light and dark side of humanity. Like a punch to the gut, it knocks the wind out of you on the opening page and keeps you gasping for air until the very end."—BookNest "For anyone who may have been concerned about what new ideas a new Autumn novel could possibly contain there is no need to worry. Heading back into this world was like putting on a favourite comfortable jumper. I loved almost every single word of this novel, it was a triumphant return to the rotting world of Autumn and I cannot wait to see where the story heads next. 10/10"—The Rotting Zombie "David Moody's Autumn: Dawn breathes new life into my favourite undead series. Moody brings his trademark approach to a zombie world: interesting and realistic characters, organic conflict, and always, always, the dramatic and horrifying struggle to survive in a world overrun by the dead." —Craig DiLouie, author of THE CHILDREN OF RED PEAK "Autumn: Dawn is an instant classic of the zombie genre, a superb novel that demands to be read by anyone with an interest in zombie fiction, or high-quality horror fiction in general; and I cannot wait to see what Moody brings to this setting with the next book in this new series.”

—The Sci-Fi and Fantasy Reviewer “Autumn: Dawn is a fantastic read from beginning to end. Not only does it feel like an Autumn story, it also feels fresh. Or as fresh as a zombie horror can be in 2021. I'll be hungrily awaiting the next story in this trilogy.” —Games, Brrraains & A Head-Banging Life Autumn Exhibition 6-31 October London Gogo London : autumn/ winter 2015-16 Gogo City Guides Autumn Exhibition London 19th September-5th October Watercolours and Drawings Spink and Son, London, Autumn 1948 Gogo London Autumn/ Winter 2015-16 Gogo Here is the essential edit of the 600+ hottest spots to eat, drink, shop, sleep, and hang out in London this autumn and winter. Quartet in Autumn Picador Classic Pan Macmillan With an introduction by Alexander McCall Smith, author of The No. 1 Ladies' Detective Agency series. One did not drink sherry before the evening, just as one did not read a novel in the morning. In 1970s London, Edwin, Norman, Letty and Marcia work in the same office and suffer the same problem - loneliness. Lovingly and with delightful humour, Barbara Pym conducts us through their day-to-day existence: their preoccupations, their irritations, their judgements, and - perhaps most keenly felt - their worries about having somehow missed out on life as post-war Britain shifted around them. Deliciously, blackly funny and full of obstinate optimism, Quartet in Autumn shows Barbara Pym's sensitive artistry at its most sparkling. Its world is both extraordinary and familiar, revealing the eccentricities of everyday life. So it's not quite her dream job? Each bride she helps to select beautiful and oh-so-expensive items for their gift list brings her one step closer to buying a little home of her own, and financing the education she longs for. When physics professor James Tetherton-Hart, brilliant in his research lab but awkward and disorganised in everyday life, comes to the store in desperate need of both a gift and a partner for a wedding that evening and recognises her, all her careful plans and meticulous checklists are turned upside down. Now her first love is back, determined to make her his partner for life, not just the evening. But unless Beth can let go of the mistaken beliefs that separated them in the past, and appreciate the depth and breadth of God's love for us all, her only gift from the wedding will be another heartbreak. Book 1 in the Love in Store series of sweet and clean Christian inspirational romances. The series is set around a stately old London department store, and the same settings and staff pop up in each book. But no need to read in order! Every story is a complete romance, following a different couple through the trials and joys of a developing love, to their happy-ever-after. Includes Halloween costumes, kissing, and a hint of gentle slapstick humour, as well as British spelling. Complete with British English Glossary. New larger print paperback edition for easier reading. Faith, Hope, & Heartwarming - real romance, real faith! Cat. of Autumn Exhibition (17th London Exhibition). The true horror wasn't from the air or in the streets...it was Underground. As German bombs pummel the city of London during the Blitz, the leaves of autumn begin to fall and so do the victims. A young boy's fascination with the work of a possible local serial killer plunges him into a life-long obsession that ultimately will become a quest for revenge. The story of Autumn is told on a number of levels: a coming of age story, a tale of revenge, a study in obsession, and a post war Gothic horror story. Set in and under London, the main characters are not the victims, or the hero, but the dark labyrinth of the Underground and what terror it could hold. Now, after nine years of autumnal atrocities and Scotland Yard unable to stop the killings, a now grown James Turrell is forced to make a fateful decision and descends into the stygian abyss of the Underground, believing himself fully prepared and ready to confront the object of his obsession. But he isn't, for terror can manifest itself in many forms. Collects the complete Autumn comic book series 1-3. Conference of Allied Ministers of Education [London, Autumn 1942], by Ralph E.
