KEY=CARA - MOLLY CONRAD

Loving Cara Simon and Schuster When his 12-year-old nephew Seth is dropped off on his doorstep, rancher Josh King, who knows how to run a multi-million dollar business, but knows nothing about adolescent boys, hires former classmate and teacher Cara Donovan to tutor Seth and learns a valuable lesson in love. Original. Loving Cara Simon and Schuster In her sizzling new Love Under the Big Sky series, USA TODAY bestselling author Kristen Proby sets the stage for a passionate reunion under the breathtaking Montana sky. Cara Donovan's summer tutoring job is turning out to be a challenge—and not just because of her troubled twelve-year-old student. It's his uncle Josh who's the real problem. If problem is the word for an irresistibly cocky, muscle-bound rancher with a taste for tight Levi's and shameless flirtation... Cara is nothing like the wallflower Josh King remembers good-naturedly teasing in high school. This Cara is gorgeous, confident, fun. From the moment the fiery teacher steps foot on his family's Lazy K Ranch, the stubborn playboy is determined to corral her. So what happens when his luscious lover takes over the reins? The first in a steamy trilogy, Kristen Proby's enthralling novel is filled to the brim with one hardworking family's triumphs and challenges, all the wild adventure of the modern West, and a whole lot of titillating fun. Love Lies Deep A Multicultural Romance Inkwell Editorial Publishing PREFACE "Sometimes baby, love lies deep ... a man gets buried in your soul and there ain't no getting him out." Her mother had said that to her once. The words haunted her as she thought about Satchel. He'd been the one to end their relationship over seven years ago, so what did he want now? And what did he mean he wouldn't stay away from her; that he'd never wanted to. She had fought hard to get over Satchel, and one thing she knew for sure ... there was no way she was letting him back in -- not after the way he'd crushed her all those years ago. She couldn't live through that kind of pain again. No human could endure that twice in a lifetime. And, she knew just how to keep him away. Only, could she go through with it? Or, would the love that had lain so deeply within her for him resurface, leading to heartbreak all over again?  Three years earlier "Sometimes baby, love lies deep ... a man gets buried in your soul and there ain't no getting him out," Celia said to her daughter. "Have you ever felt that way about a man mama?" "Yes, once. Who? Daddy?" Nylah asked. "No honey. I loved your father, but a bit before I met him, there was someone else ..." "You mean you loved another man more than you loved daddy?" Nylah queried, incredulous. She'd never even imagined her mother with another man. "Nylah I had a life before your father," her mother said simply. "I was quite the looker you know. I had a few suitors before your father settled me down. But, a woman doesn't have to tell all her secrets. In fact, there are some things she never tells another soul. That's just the way of a woman." "Well ... why haven't you ever told me any of this before? Did daddy know?" "You mean did he know if I dated other men before he came along? ... Of course he did," Celia answered before Nylah could confirm or deny her question. "Why do you think he was so quick to propose? He did so after three weeks of courting me, you know?" Nylah smiled and shook her head. She'd heard the story many times. It was ironic, she thought. She'd dated a man for three, almost four years and instead of proposing, he'd given her her walking papers. Her mother, on the other hand, had gotten a marriage proposal - in three weeks. Nylah often wondered about women like her mother. What did they possess that a man couldn't resist? What secret did they have? And how did it draw a man into a lifetime commitment so quickly? Whatever special power or secret or trait it was, she hadn't inherited it. In fact, it was just the opposite. She seemed to be able to repel suitors with very little effort. "So who was he; this other man? Why didn't you marry him? What happened between you all?" Nylah asked, still flabbergasted that her mother had never even breathed a single word about someone who had obviously meant a great deal to her. "That's a story for another day and another time. But I do know of a couple who had that kind of love you're carrying around in you for Satchel. Your grandparents; your father's mama and daddy. I've never seen two people more in love. I think that's why your father was able to love me so, and why I was so devoted to him. He had the best example of what love was supposed to look and feel like - and I did my best to be the kind of wife his mother was - because lord knows my parents were a disaster. If there were two people who didn't belong together, it was my mother and father." Nylah hadn't known her mother's parents. But she smiled, thinking back on the grandparents she did know -- her father's parents. She'd witnessed the love flow between them as effortlessly as waves crashing against an ocean shore. It was a rare site to see. Even as a child, Nylah knew that there was something special about their union. They fit, like a pair of ultra-soft leather gloves molded to your hands, that's how closely and beautifully they melded into each other. "I want that mama. I want that so bad," Nylah said, her throat convulsing as she swallowed the pain threatening to engulf her. "There's someone out there for you honey. You just have to trust that." "I don't want someone mama. I want 'the one.' I want what grandma and grandpa had. ... What if I've found the one? What if it was Satchel? What if I never feel for another man the way I feel for him? It's been over a year and I haven't even mustered up enough interest to go on one date." "Give it time honey. It'll be alright. The right man will come along. You will love again." Celia placed her hand on her daughter's back and rubbed it as they sat on the front porch of the little craftsman-style bungalow the Simmons had called home for four decades. It was the home Nylah had grown up in. Her mother had nursed her through all of her teenaged heartbreaks here. They'd had many talks right on the same concrete steps they sat on now. She wasn't sure if it was fitting or pitiful that some twenty years later, her mother was still nursing her through heartbreaks. Nylah buried her face in her hands and exhaled heavily. "But will I love again like that mama?" she said, tears silently coursing down her cheeks. "Will I love like that?" she repeated. *****

Be Safe I Love You A Novel Simon and Schuster This widely acclaimed novel about a female soldier who returns from Iraq haunted by a tragic mistake is "beautifully written...suspenseful and smart and tender in unexpected moments" (Miami Herald) and was named one of the 5 Best in Modern War Fiction by The Sunday Telegraph. Before she enlisted, classically-trained singer Lauren Clay had been accepted to a prestigious music conservatory, but her family's financial demands—worsened by her parents' divorce and her father's declining mental health—pushed her in another direction. Joining the army allowed Lauren to provide for her family—especially her younger brother Danny, whose quirky, heartfelt letters to her overseas are signed, be safe, I love you. When she arrives home unexpectedly, it's clear to her friends and family that something is profoundly wrong with Lauren. But her father is so happy to have her home that he ignores her odd behavior, as well as the repeated phone calls from an army psychologist. Things seem better when Lauren offers to take Danny on a trip to visit their mother upstate, but instead, she guides them into the glacial woods of Canada on a quest to visit the Jeanne d'Arc Basin, the site of an oil field that has become her strange obsession. What happens there will change Sergeant Lauren Clay's family forever, as she must finally face what she saw, and did, in Iraq. Be Safe I Love You is "a rare, illuminating glimpse into the distinctive experience and psyche of a female vet" (Boston Globe); "a riveting suspense story and a frank portrayal of war's psychic damage" (Ms. Magazine); and "a painful exploration of the devastation wrought by combat even when the person returns from war without a scratch...this book is a reminder that art and love are all that can keep us from despair" (The New York Times Book Review).

Cara Delevingne -The Most Beautiful Girl in the World Kings Road Publishing Hailed as the new Kate Moss, Cara Delevingne has fast become one of the most influential supermodels on the planet. Known for her irreverent style and kooky sense of humour, it is her wild side that makes her a constant source of fascination the world over. In this, the first unauthorised biography of the British beauty, Abi Smith reveals Cara's life behind the lens, exploring her potential in the acting and music spheres, and just how she manages to be both weird and wonderful.

A Path Toward Love Thomas Nelson Katherine came home to forget her past. The last thing she expected was to find her future. Young widow Katherine Osborne returns to her family's rustic camp on Raquette Lake in the Adirondack Mountains. She's determined to live a quiet life, but her socialite mother is equally determined to push her into a new marriage while she's still young. Andrew Townsend has known Katherine since they were children. An attorney who is successful, but not wealthy, he knows she is socially out of his reach. But he's curious about what changed the free-spirited girl he once knew into this private, somber young woman. Katherine has kept hidden the details of her unsuccessful marriage. When past sins come to light, she must turn to God for the courage to be honest. But how can she trust the God she feels has let her down? When she confides in Andrew, their relationship takes a dramatic turn into uncharted territory. Amid impossible obstacles, two young people must learn to trust enough to walk the path that God has cleared for them. A path that leads to healing and restoration. A path toward love.

Anam Cara A Book of Celtic Wisdom Harper Collins "Anam Cara is a rare synthesis of philosophy, poetry, and spirituality. This work will have a powerful and life-transforming experience for those who read it." —Deepak Chopra John O'Donohue, poet, philosopher, and scholar, guides you through the spiritual landscape of the Irish imagination. In Anam Cara, Gaelic for "soul friend," the ancient teachings, stories, and blessings of Celtic wisdom provide such profound insights on the universal themes of friendship, solitude, love, and death as: Light is generous The human heart is never completely born Love as ancient recognition The body is the angel of the soul Solitude is luminous Beauty likes neglected places The passionate heart never ages To be natural is to be holy Silence is the sister of the divine Death as an invitation to freedom

"Death is not the greatest loss of life. The greatest loss is what dies inside us while we live." —Norman Cousins Having a taste of paradise, only to have it immediately snatched from your grasp, was without a doubt the most excruciating experience one could have the misfortune of coming across. River Ellis couldn't fathom how things had spiraled out of control. Like a domino effect, once it was put into motion, it was unstoppable. One monumental ache after the other. Did he have enough strength to be the pillar of hope? Or would he cower from life's punishing blows, tormenting him until he was utterly and hopelessly crippled? But above all, could he protect the woman he'd vowed to spend the rest of his life with? Hard Time Penguin In this all-new novel from the author of After Hours and Unbound, a woman with a rocky past finds romance in the last place she'd ever expect... Annie Goodhouse doesn't need to be warned about bad boys; good sense and an abusive ex have given her plenty of reasons to play it safe. But when she steps into her new role as outreach librarian for Cousins Correctional Facility, no amount of good sense can keep her mind—or eyes—off inmate Eric Collier. Eric doesn't claim to be innocent of the crime that landed him in prison. In fact, he'd do it again if that's what it took to keep his family safe. Loyalty and force are what he knows. But meeting Annie makes him want to know more. When Eric begins courting Annie through letters, they embark on a reckless, secret romance—a forbidden fantasy that neither imagines could ever be real...until early parole for Eric changes everything, and forces them both to face a past they can't forget, and a desire they can't deny. And suddenly I'm wondering if it's possible for two people to fall in love at first talk. Because I'm falling...hard. The Dearly Beloved A Novel Simon and Schuster "This gentle, gorgeously written book may be one of my favorites ever." —Jenna Bush Hager (A Today show "Read with Jenna" Book Club Selection!) This "moving portrait of love and friendship set against a backdrop of social change" (The New York Times Book Review, Editor's Choice) traces two married couples whose lives become entangled when the husbands become copastors at a famed New York city congregation in the 1960s. Charles and Lily, James and Nan. They meet in Greenwich Village in 1963 when Charles and James are jointly hired to steward the historic Third Presbyterian Church through turbulent times. Their personal differences however, threaten to tear them apart. Charles is destined to succeed his father as an esteemed professor of history at Harvard, until an unorthodox lecture about faith leads him to ministry. How then, can he fall in love with Lily—fiercely intellectual, elegantly stern—after she tells him with certainty that she will never believe in God? And yet, how can he not? James, the youngest son in a hardscrabble Chicago family, spent much of his youth angry at his alcoholic father and avoiding his anxious mother. Nan grew up in Mississippi, the devout and beloved daughter of a minister and a debutante. James's escape from his desperate circumstances leads him to Nan and, despite his skepticism of hope in all its forms, her gentle, constant faith changes the course of his life. In The Dearly Beloved, Cara Wall reminds us of "the power of the novel in its simplest, richest form: bearing intimate witness to human beings grappling with their faith and falling in love," (Entertainment Weekly, A-) as we follow these two couples through decades of love and friendship, jealousy and understanding, forgiveness and commitment. Against the backdrop of turbulent changes facing the city and the church's congregation, Wall offers a poignant meditation on faith and reason, marriage and children, and the ways we find meaning in our lives. The Dearly Beloved is a gorgeous, wise, and provocative novel that is destined to become a classic. Love, Loss, Life... Troubador Publishing Ltd The plains stretch out, endless, distant and unknown for those who live constrained by the limitations of nature's hardships and by their poverty. Cara's village is poor, inhabited by those left bitter, unhappy and resigned to the hardships of life and its bleak monotony. They live in constant fear for their lives. Their minds and hearts are closed, their experience of the world is muted and dull, lacking in enjoyment, excitement and feeling. The riders come every year causing destruction, taking young women for their slaves and small boys to train and make their own. The villagers fear the riders and live lives darkened under their constant threat. Only Cara takes a different view of them. She rebels inwardly against her folk and their way of life. The riders' wild ways and free nature hold a sense of magic for her, an invitation to experience the unknown, to feel and live fully. When her turn to be taken comes, she is not afraid. She is excited and her unique character wraps her up in isolation. With her slavery, a new life begins for Cara. One that brings her a deep powerful love, a freedom of being herself truly and fully, a time of learning from the wise and experienced, a sense of belonging somewhere, having a home and the beginning of inner growth and understanding. She experiences the joys of love and tastes the bitterness of loss. She roams the desert, hungry, thirsty and fighting to survive, searching for answers. She enters the ocean and roams lands hidden by mist, learning every day a little more about herself, her dreams and fears. With the help of those she meets along her journey and the guidance she finds in nature and in her dreams, she eventually reaches a place of peace. Cara is a lively young woman full of excited interest for life. She learns to survive, to forgive, to love with all her heart and to let go. She gets to know her own true nature and learns to accept her passions, desires, fears and resentments, finding within herself a place of peace and a source of happiness. Love, Loss, Life takes the reader through Cara's journey through love, loss, desert and ocean, making the reader part of her dreams, hopes, fears and through understanding them, her personal growth and journey towards light, forgiveness and happiness You Can't Hide Pelican Ventures Book Group Escape into an edge-of-your seat thrilling romantic suspense. Cara Dalton lives a normal, routine life until her first daring adventure lands her in imminent danger. Mistaken as a witness to a brutal crime, she becomes the target of a ruthless drug smuggler who is willing to stop at nothing to silence her. Now, she must place her safety in the hands of a wounded stranger. Undercover agent Gage McKenna knows all too well the dangers Cara is up against. Recovering from a life altering injury—inflicted by the same man who now hunts Cara—Gage faces an uncertain future of his own. As Gage and Cara team up to fight this highly motivated killer, they must learn to rely on each other or risk loss Risk Analysis in Theory and Practice Elsevier The objective of this book is to present this analytical framework and to illustrate how it can be used in the investigation of economic decisions under risk. In a sense, the economics of risk is a difficult subject: it involves understanding human decisions in the absence of perfect information. How do we make decisions when we do not know some of events affecting us? The complexities of our uncertain world and of how humans obtain and process information make this difficult. In spite of these difficulties, much progress has been made. First, probability theory is the corner stone of risk assessment. This allows us to measure risk in a fashion that can be communicated among decision makers or researchers. Second, risk preferences are now better understood. This provides useful insights into the economic rationality of decision making under uncertainty. Third, over the last decades, good insights have been developed about the value of information. This helps better understand the role of information in human decision making and this book provides a systematic treatment of these issues in the context of both private and public decisions under uncertainty. * Balanced treatment of conceptual models and applied analysis * Considers both private and public decisions under uncertainty * Website presents application exercises in EXCEL Lexicon Cornu-Britannicum A Dictionary of the Ancient Celtic Language of Cornwall, in which the Words are Elucidated by Copious Examples from the Cornish Works Now Remaining ; with Translations in English ; the Synonyms are Also Given in the Cognate Dialects of Welsh, Armoric, Irish, Gaelic and Manx ; Shewing at One View the Connexion Between Them Hope in the Urban Schools Love Stories Strategic Book Publishing Hope in the Urban Schools: Love Stories explores the school life of urban students. Giving thanks in such circumstances may seem impossible, but thankfulness is a powerful tool God uses to heal wounded hearts and transform "stuck" people. In A Thankful Heart, readers will hear real life stories from people like them who have discovered the power of thankfulness to change both their inward attitude and their outward situation. Plus, this warm, inspiring book contains a Thankfulness Journal to guide readers into a new perspective and record the healing process as it unfolds.

Chameleon: Alien Castaways 1 (Intergalactic Dating Agency) Cara Bristol
 When you wish upon a falling star, er, UFO... Young widow Kevanne Girardi catches sight of a meteorite streaking across the sky and wishes for a good handyman to help make her rundown lavender farm a big success. Instead, she gets a shapeshifting alien who apparently has never seen a leaky faucet before. But his loving and noble spirit make him just the man to fix her wounded heart. He hasn't promised her forever, but a girl can hope, can't she? Maybe she'll make another wish. When his ship tumbles out of the sky and lands on Earth, Chameleon never expects to fall for a human woman. Unfortunately, he can't stay. He made a mistake that led to the devastation of an entire planet, and now the survivors are depending on him to get them to safety. He must repair his ship and leave before the Xenon Consortium finds him and Earth becomes endangered, too. But oh, he wishes he could stay with Kevanne forever. Can a wrinkle in fate make their wishes come true? Chameleon is the sexy, heart-tugging first book of the Alien Castaways alien romance series.
The Hanover Girls Book 4 Desert Wind Press
 The band is ready. The families are ready. The Hanovers and the Masons think they know what they are getting into as the Hanover Girls and Spectre, along with the parents, embark on a spring break trip they will never forget. Deirdre, however, is not so sure. As the coordinator of the trip and Sarah's new employee, Deirdre's concerns reach a peak crisis regarding Cara. Desperate to find a resolution, she reaches out to Andrea for help. In the meantime, the band finds a mentor at the school that will mold them into shape and become true performers and showmen. The day finally arrives for the concert performance, and it is as emotional as it is exciting. Ingrid's plea to a long, lost love is given, as well as her tribute to an angel. The band members are galvanized as they execute the performance with everything they have. In the aftermath of the concert, the students at the International School For Children see the band members differently. An unexpected reverence arises for two of the band members that will change all of their lives. Cara's talents and abilities are explored and discovered, leading to a startling conclusion for her future. And two unplanned reunions bring the growing family closer than ever.
Fields of Grace Sharing Faith from the Horse Farm Thomas Nelson
 From her horse farm in Nebraska, Cara Whitney--wife of Dan Whitney (aka "Larry the Cable Guy")--shares down-to-earth stories about how ordinary people can share their faith in extraordinary ways. In the midst of uncertain and sometimes frightening times, sharing God's love with others gives us hope and purpose. With her humorous and often touching stories--many featuring horses, cows, and rascally dogs--Cara Whitney delightfully reminds us that it's always a good time to share the love of Jesus with your neighbor. In Fields of Grace, Cara passes on lessons from her amazing animal teachers, such as . . . What a barnyard horse brawl shows us about how God uses us in our weaknesses How caring for baby calves teaches us the value of letting go Why a carriage-pulling pack horse motivates us to be our best selves How a dance class inspires us to embrace our identity in Christ What a floppy-eared dog tells us about loving our neighbor With Scripture verses, beautiful photography from the American heartland, and a ribbon marker for finding your place, Fields of Grace is a gorgeous gift for: Readers of Cara's previous book, Unbridled Faith Fans of Larry the Cable Guy Anyone fascinated by the "simpler life" of farming in rural America Animal lovers and photography lovers Spiritual seekers interested in a gentle approach to learning more about God These charming yet powerful stories encourage us to care for others as we grow in our own spiritual journeys. No matter what times we live in, the love of Christ can transform lives--and help each of us to draw closer to Him. Voice Lessons World Bank Publications
 The story of one woman growing up in the shadow of an older, dazzling sister: trying to be like her, fighting with her, and ultimately learning how to live her own life and speak in her own voice on her own terms. Dear Cara Letters from Otto Frank : Anne Frank's Father Shares His Wisdom North Star Publications
 In this volume, the story told in The Diary of Anne Frank continues and expands. Through his letters, Otto, Anne's father and the only survivor in the Frank family, became a treasured wise friend to thousands of young people around the world, by giving simple, honest responses to their questions. Cara, a young American girl, kept his letters, followed his advice, and honored Otto as a surrogate father. Nearly 20 years later, as a grown woman and mother, Cara journeyed to Amsterdam to see the home where Anne had been hidden in an attic for two years before her murder. Cara listened to some of the holocaust stories from the Dutch people who had sheltered the Franks, and then traveled to Switzerland to fulfill a life-long dream: to finally meet her mentor in Switzerland. There she found Otto, who had not forgotten those who had betrayed their wartime hiding place, but neither did he wish for revenge. He had managed, through his own radiant spirit and the poignant words of his dead daughter, to embrace the best in people - and forgive those who had been the worst. Love After Fifty, or Not A Few Brave Women Share the Truth of Their Internet Dating Experiences *Wheatmark, Inc.
